

24 July 2017 - Shilley Pool - More Frequently

A week after this hash, I sat down to write the trash and could not remember a thing. I looked at my notes and they read:

Babelfish - I havent had a bobbly one for ages

Cold - Amaized demented

Polo - Slipped in

Roxanne - Bra inside out

Tinsel - Babelfish raping Dents

Ruben - Beano red and black

Lights Out - Soft Bertie, no water

Piggy Back - Commando as no socks

If anyone can remind me of any of these, I can now write a really good trash.

So I thought, what can I do? Do an Elvis and write a Sun column with smutty jokes, Superbug dressed in bra and knickers, etc, a great idea but my computer skills could not cope.

Do a big map? But where did we go before Shilley Pool??

Then I had the idea of asking Rudi. After all he had led me all the way.

Rudi said:"it was a good hash as there were no stiles and I didn't have to wait for some old fart to lift me over (I could jump myself but he needs the exercise). I thought Haddock's hash the week after was better as instead of sawdust Haddock just took us from one tree to another: a lesson that could be learnt for all future hashes, especially Kennerleigh!

I missed not having any other dogs...I expected at least one guest appearance by Tilly but it's not the same without Jet! to bite or Paddy to smell even though he has to bring his helper along.

The high point of the evening was of course the swim in the pool, which was great, although as usual we arrived late. It would be nice if early arrivals could have found some sticks as it takes time to find my own.

I can't tell you anything about the on down because I was left in the car. It would be helpful if I was allowed in as not only could I inspect the kitchen but could tell my helper what he had written. It all looks like rubbish to me!

On-On

Rudi...apologies for late delivery
