

Hare's Polo & Bogrot
30th October 2017
TheHighwayman Inn Sourton .

Being the hare raiser tonight was a treat not a trick as it was booked nearly a year in advance 😊

The clocks only went back the week before so total darkness hid the frightful faces but luckily most were wearing masks 🦋 .

Being Halloween 🍊 Beano had talked about nothing else all week so he returned for his second hash with Kirton dressed as The spooky Hulk . 🤩

The car park of the most Spookiest pub in England was cold....shivers were running down our backs ! You only had to look around the car park to see how spooky it was 🧟 , A picture was taken in front of Elvis's house for memories of how scary we looked . Scooby doo was blinded by his mask so pushed his way into the Hashers making himself look ghoulish 😂

We set off across the road up on to the cold eerie Moors looking for our trail . ONON a spooky Hasher shouts . We were following a broomstick with a dead cat on the end 🐈 ! I'm sure I heard ONON again before the words " has anybody seen a dot ? Are You ? " We ran around for a while following the theme of lost souls while shouting "Are you ?" 🧟 Stinking bishop hits the deck & rolls over 😂 just before Polo sets Off down at the check (that I think was live) " Follow the front Running Hare " somebody shouts "

Beano goes for a big jump in his slippy low profile trainersnope he didn't make it but it was beautiful to watch 😂 I can hear high pitch squeals from fellow Hashers who managed to keep upright. Suddenly out of nowhere 3 fishhooks 🐟 & a dot appear 🤩 ONON shout the spooky Hashers 🧟 .

This was Bogrots trail & we we're reminded of this fact for about 10 minutes as we squelched our way through thick Shiggy & brambles . We crossed the road & went down through low lying bushes....This part of the hash was 🍌 for me with my back ache 😞 I found it hard to straighten myself & I did wonder why I was on bogrots & polo's Hash with a bad back ? 😞

We squelched our way through more Shiggy with Tuppence nearly loosing his shoes & DVK of all Hashers moaning about it !

We kept to the trail until SS appeared which should have read T or T as Polo's sweets in a clear bag that a "friend " had given him were questionable as sweets . I think we were tricked not treated..... Beano was nearly sick 🤢...

We had taken so long being lost souls that a short cut was given....Beano did ask me if we were running on road ? It was the Granite way & we didn't hit grass until the dead cat was lit up on the church by Ticketyboo 😹 .

We were all looking forward to the On-down & going into The Highwayman Inn the spookiest pub in England the night before Halloween 🍊 & It didn't disappoint . There were skeletons & ghosts every where a caldron of potion on the counter & you had to go outside to Use the men's toilet !

Elvis commented on Scooby doo's dinner saying it reminded him of the Poo that Rudi did during the hash , Bablefish was charged 50p for gravy on her dry dinner & the Barmen looked like they were from the Adams family so all in all a great Halloween hash 🍷

Thanks Polo & Bogrot .
